What is NovelList?

NovelList is an online readers' advisory resource to help you assist your patrons to find the books they want to read. The database can be searched to find more books by a particular author, books in a specific genre, or similar books to those they have read.

In addition, NovelList includes:

Award lists covering a range of genres, subject areas and reading levels.

Grab and Go Book lists arranged by genre or topic for a range of reading levels.

Author Read-a-likes list the genres in which the author writes, representative titles with plot descriptions, and a listing of similar authors.

Book Discussion Guides for the discussion leader include a brief author biography, summary of the book, questions and answers to stimulate discussion and other reading suggestions.

Book Talks on children's and young adult titles to promote reading.

Feature Articles present a subgenre or topic with notes about titles to help with creating displays and reading lists, and gain familiarity with new books.

Search Options

Basic Search

Enter author name, book title, and/or descriptive keywords that might describe a plot to search all the designated MARC fields as well as the content in Book Discussion guides, Book Talks, etc. Searches can be limited to reading levels.

Advanced Search

Use the dropdown menus and the Boolean operators (and/or/not) to search one or more indexes simultaneously. To narrow the search, use limiters, such as reading level and author characteristics. To broaden the search, select one or more expanders to include synonyms and plurals of search terms and search full-text.

Searching Series

In Advanced Search, enter author and/or title, Uncheck All Document Types, and select Series.

In Advanced Search, Browse Series.

Browse

Retrieve Award Lists, NovelList articles and lists organized by audience level and resources for those who work with kids.
