Note: Due to Covid, we offered many more self-directed programs, which are counted on this report as one-on-one sessions.

3.32 Children registered for the library's summer reading program
Note: Due to Covid, registration for summer reading couldn't be done in-person, but had to been done online. With schools and other venues closed major parts of our outreach were limited.

3.33 Young adults registered for the library's summer reading
Note: Due to Covid, registration for summer reading couldn't be done in-person, but had to been done online. With schools and other venues program closed major parts of our outreach were limited.

Note: Due to Covid, registration for summer reading couldn't be done in-person, but had to been done online, limiting the number of people we could reach.

Due to all programming needing to be online, many programs were recorded and now counted in CV-10. With programs needing to be done online, we had to limit the number of programs that we do because some programs didn't translate well to a online format and there were other demands on staff time.

Note: Due to all programming needing to be online, many programs were recorded and now counted in CV-10. With programs needing to be done online, we had to limit the number of programs that we do because some programs didn't translate well to a online format and there were other demands on staff time.

With limited online programming, attendance was also limited. We have had several families tell us they won't participate in programs again until they are back in-person due to feeling their children already have too much online time.

Note: With limited online programming, attendance was also limited.

Note: With limited online programming, attendance was also limited.

During closure and the summer, early literacy programs were all recorded and are there counted in CV10. Since fall, program have either been out of doors, or via zoom. This limits attendance and we have been doing them less frequently.

Attendance is limited, because for out door story times with social distancing we can only accommodate a few families. With Zoom story times, we have found less interest among families and have decreased attendance.

Note: Due to Covid we were not able to offer any of these programs this year.

Note: Due to Covid closures, we have not been able to offer technology assistance - or had many requests for it this last year.
